Pinned Under Tractor 1½ Hours

ASH FLAT, Ark. (AP)—Ernest Milligan, 70, of Cave City (Sharp County), was pinned beneath a tractor for 1½ hours Tuesday while efforts to get help were delayed because telephone service was out.

His son, Gordon, finally got a call through to a neighbor who was on the same line. The neighbor got in a car, drove from house to house calling aid, and about 15 people helped lift the tractor from Milligan.

The victim's wife, Irene, 68, had tried unsuccessfully to phone for help earlier.

Milligan had been hauling fire wood when he dismounted from the tractor, which shifted into drive, ran over him and pinned his arm and shoulder.

Dissenters Have Had Their Day

—Vets Say

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Hundreds of Veterans Day ceremonies, many aimed at giving President Nixon's "silent majority" a chance of piping up, drew thousands of flag-waving citizens in cities and hamlets across America.

Some of the larger crowds—estimated by police at more than 10,000 each—were in Washington, Boston and Tallahassee, Fla.

Massachusetts Gov. Francis W. Sargent—declaring "Veterans are being produced the hard way in Vietnam at this very moment"—led 11,000 marchers in Boston. The Tallahassee parade featured traditional floats and civic displays.

In the nation's capital, organizers of the Veterans Day Freedom Rally at the Washington Monument could claim success as the estimated turnout on a cool but clear autumn day matched their predictions.

The mostly white, neatly dressed gathering in Washington applauded and shouted approval during the 2½ hours as speaker after speaker attacked leaders of the war protest movement.

They heard Rep. Donald Lukens, R-Ohio, call the war protesters "Spockettes" after the well-known baby doctor and outspoken war critic, Benjamin Spock.

"They've had their day, they're beginning to make daddy and big brother mad," Lukens said.

They cheered agreement when Ed Butler, 34, who calls himself a "conflict manager," said of Saturday's war protest march: "Parading with these people is like marching with the Mafia for better law enforcement."

Some 35,000 were on the same ground Oct. 15 for music, speeches and the beginning of a candlelight march the night of the Vietnam Day Moratorium. And it was as an answer to this war protest and others that the "freedom rally" Tuesday was declared to make something extra of the Veterans Day observance.

The freedom rallyers occasionally joined in argument on Vietnam—maybe a dozen small clusters in the mass for the day. Neither side of the argument seemed to be listening to the other.

Not far away, the President and Mrs. Nixon paid a 45-minute visit to a Veterans Administration hospital. Their daughter, Julie, and her husband, David Eisenhower, observed the day in the same fashion by touring a hospital in Northampton, Mass.

Mrs. Eisenhower called the war a "terrible tragedy," and said she believes her father is trying sincerely to end it and that she hopes it is settled before next June when her husband graduates from college.

In the South, stars of the Atlanta baseball team, including Hank Aaron and Phil Niekro, also paid visits to veterans in hospitals.

Constitution Draft Explained to Kiwanis

— Henry Haynes Photo with Star Camera W. H. ETTER

W.H. Etter of Washington, the Hempstead County Representative of the Constitutional Convention, was the guest speaker at Tuesday's meeting of the Hope Kiwanis Club. The program was arranged by Kiwanian Gordon Renshaw.

Mr. Etter reported on the progress to date of the proposed new Arkansas Constitution, discussing briefly some of the articles that will affect the average citizen in his relationship to his State Government.

Mr. Etter stated that the Convention adjourned until January for the specific purpose of allowing the citizenry an opportunity to study the proposed constitution and make suggestions to the Constitutional Representatives before they meet to finalize the document that will be presented to the electorate in the next general election. Mr. Etter expressed some fear that unless the proposed constitution is studied and its provisions understood, at least in a general way, by the voters that its adoption is doubtful simply to a lack of understanding.

Guest at Tuesday's meeting were Paul Henley, the newly chosen director of the City Parks and Recreation Commission, Colonel Samuel Smith, and Key Clubbers Steve Tolleson and Stan James.

President K.G. Hamilton announced that a Kiwanis Ladies Night meeting would be held Tuesday, December 2nd.

ture honored.

"It's a damn good job, and I hope you don't mind my saying so," said Scriver after the movers left with the statue, insured for $40,000.

Linderman won the love and admiration of rodeo riders in a 25-year career that was ended by an airplane crash in November 1965, at Salt Lake City.

"That was Bill Linderman—the guy I cast in bronze," said Scriver.

Born in 1920 near the south-central Montana ranching community of Belfry, Linderman earned $443,000 on the rodeo circuit and won more titles in more events than any other rider.

Scriver's bronze stands 7 feet 9, nearly 5,000 pounds of metal went into its casting. Scriver said he and from 10-15 skilled and semiskilled men worked on it at times. It has seven major sections and eight smaller ones.

The Linderman statue depicts the cowboy holding his saddle with his chaps and reins over his shoulder.

eight national co-chairmen. "Any movement that is in the black is doing bad. We measure our success by our deficit but we hope that can be reduced."

But much more troublesome than the dollar gap has been the ideological gap with its never ending clamor over tactics, power relationships, political phraseology and goals.

The storm clouds were there at the very start. Followers of Leon Trotsky, who have organized around the war issue since the mid-sixties, tried to pack the July 4th meeting in Cleveland that brought the New Mobe into being.

A direct descendant of the National Mobilization Committee, which staged the 1967 Pentagon march, the New Mobe was the brainchild of the old Mobe personalities—Lans, pacifist David Dellinger, Prof. Sidney Peck, all tough minded radicals, all free of any clearcut factional label.

They managed to retain control of the leadership at Cleveland but the three-way contention between old and new left forces and the moderate middle has raged unabated since.

At a Nov. 2 steering committee meeting in Chicago, for example, the ideological din became so fierce that at one point Peck threatened to resign.

At a planning meeting of the West Coast Mobe in San Francisco, the explosive radical lawyer, Terence (Kayo) Hallinan, watched in rising anger as Trotskyists maneuvered on the

Camden Man Dies Under Train

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP)—Allen Knight, 30, of Camden was killed Tuesday when he was struck by a Cotton Belt freight train 10 miles south of here.

Sheriff Grover Linebarter said Knight had been deer hunting and apparently was so exhausted that he fell asleep on the railroad tracks. He said foul play was not suspected.

Train Engineer J. Fred Jones of Pine Bluff said he didn't see the man on the tracks until it was too late to stop. He said he blew the train's whistle and that the man raised his head up before he was struck.

Hallinan, another of the New Mobe's eight national co-chairmen, said he finally had enough. He threw a punch because "I was not going down without a fight."

Others at the meeting broke up the brawl, and one by one all the disputes on the West Coast—even the one between Hallinan and the Trotskyists—were resolved or at least put aside as the day of the march neared.

There was even agreement on a speaker's list—a delicate compromise that will put a Black Panther on the San Francisco platform with former Sen. Wayne Morse.

The same kind of compromise was painfully reached for the Washington rally where Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., and Trotskyist Carol Lapanian will be among a wide spectrum of speakers.

In the day-to-day operations of the coalition, the factions coexist and cooperate, but their ideological differences remain.

UN Bars Red China 19th Time

By TOM HOGE
Associated Press Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. General Assembly voted Tuesday night to keep Communist China out for the 19th time, but six more nations changed their votes.

The 126-nation assembly rejected the proposal by a vote of 56 to 48 with 21 abstentions. The vote last year was 58 to 44 and 23 abstentions. The outcome this year was never in doubt.

Although decisively defeated, Peking picked up four nations who swung from the abstention column to the yes column: Libya, Mauritius, Ghana and Nigeria.

Two other nations switched from no last year to abstentions: Italy and Belgium. Both are negotiating to establish diplomatic relations with Peking.

The closest vote was in 1965 when the result was 47 to 47 with 20 abstentions. However, this was a defeat because the assembly has voted every year that the question of China's representation is a substantive issue requiring a two-thirds majority for assembly action rather than a procedural issue requiring only a simple majority.

This year, the U.S.-backed resolution for the two-thirds rule received 71 votes in favor, 48 against and 4 abstentions.

Seventeen Communist or non-aligned nations sponsored the resolution to seat Peking. The Soviet Union was not a sponsor and for the first time did not even speak on behalf of Red China, India, a longtime supporter, also kept silent.

Since Moscow became embroiled in its bitter power struggle with Peking, Soviet support has been growing more perfunctory each year.

the streets in that area are badly in need of attention and promised to schedule rebuilding sections of Laurel street, Avenue C and D from Hazel street to the plant. The street department was requested to work out a plan for rebuilding these roads.

The Board reviewed a request from Jim Cole that some steps be taken to rebuild the sewer line on South Main street. The line is in bad shape and there have been several stoppages on it during the past year.

The board ordered that some repairs be made on this line in order to maintain service until the line can be rebuilt. The State Highway Department is planning to rebuild South Main street and the sewer line needs rebuilding from 3rd street to the High School. It is hoped that this rebuilding can be done at the time the highway department rebuilds the street.

Peat, Marwick, Mitchell and Company submitted a proposal for making an actuarial study of the Firemen's Pension Plan. The Board reviewed the proposal and recommended that the officers of the pension plan have the study made. The plan as set up by the State Legislature some years ago, is unsound and will have to be supplemented with funds from some other source in order to meet the payments to retired firemen.

The board reviewed the progress to date on negotiations with the Federal Aviation Administration for removal of the recapture clause in the deed to the airport property. The clause provides that the federal government could take over the property during a national emergency. This prevents any permanent improvement being built on the land and the City has several industrial prospects interested in locating in that area.

The city should have an answer within the next two weeks and there are some industrial prospects who are now waiting to see if the land will be available.

The Hope-Hempstead County Industrial Development Foundation feel that they have a good chance of locating some important industries in this area.

Malfunction May Delay Moon Shot

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)

An apparent failure in a hydrogen tank on Apollo 12 was discovered today and threatened to delay Friday's launching of the moonbound spacecraft.

The problem was a failure in a vacuum holding area in one of the two spacecraft liquid hydrogen tanks. It was noticed while crews were loading the hydrogen this morning.

"Project officials are investigating to determine the extent of the difficulty and possible effect on Apollo 12 launch operation," the space agency said.

Liquid oxygen and liquid hydrogen are used to provide gases for operation of the spacecraft fuel cells, which produce electricity. The two tanks, located in the service module, each are loaded with about 28 pounds of liquid hydrogen.

Crews immediately began draining off the hydrogen and prepared for experts to examine the tanks.

The space agency statement said there was "an apparent failure in vacuum holding characteristics," indicating a possible leak in the system.

Leaks and other problems have cropped up in prelaunch preparations on earlier Apollo flights and were corrected in time to meet the launch time.

Education of Indians Is Near Failure

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal efforts to provide American Indians with quality education have been marked with near-total failure and haunted by prejudice and official ignorance, according to a Senate subcommittee report.

"We have concluded that our national policies for educating American Indians are a failure of major proportions," the report said. "They have not offered Indian children—either in years past or today—an educational opportunity anywhere near to that offered the great bulk of American children."

The Indian education subcommittee's final report is a distillation of two years of hearings, staff studies and field investigations, begun by the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and continued by his brother, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — CBS played the conflict in Northern Ireland down the middle in its biweekly "60 Minutes" Tuesday night.

Mike Wallace reported conditions and sentiment from the Protestant side while Harry Reasoner did the same thing on the Roman Catholic ground. Neither added much that was new to the story.

Most interesting segment of the program showed a Los Angeles lawyer explaining to a class of UCLA students ways to duck the draft or at least postpone induction. The attorney estimated he had handled some 1,600 draft cases and of these one client was in jail, 12 were drafted—and the rest were still civilians.

It is not evasion, he says, but simply using the loopholes in the law. Many of his clients keep out through exempt occupations while others are found to be suffering from physical disabilities overlooked by draft board doctors.

Student unrest and demonstrations have been the inspiration for numerous television scripts recently and ABC's "Mod Squad" got with it Tuesday night. The young undercover agents went on campus to solve a homicide and got into a student uprising.

The hour had a fresh, contemporary flavor—the young militants vs. the puzzled college personnel and police. This aspect, like a rich icing on a plain cake, concealed the fact that the story was really a routine little cops-and-killers tale.

"Movie of the Week" that followed on the network was one of those good old action stories about a spy who gave up the business but could not get away from his past.

Robert Horton, once of "Wagon Train" was the ex-spy who had hung onto vital papers that both sides wanted. But Sebastian Cabot, playing a stony-hearted spy-master, nearly stole the show.

The ABC censor checking "The Spy Killer" was either napping or extraordinarily permissive: In one scene, our hero and an attractive young woman, definitely not his wife, were discussing the case casually while occupying twin beds in the girl's apartment.

Four special programs which will occupy NBC's entire evening schedule tonight. First comes an animated special with Bill Cosby's voice and the figure of his childhood buddy, Fat Albert. Then there is Johnny Carson's special, a series of comedy sketches with help from George C. Scott, Maureen Stapleton and Marion Mercer. Diana Ross and the Supremes plus the Temptations will then mix comedy with their Motown sound. Then comes "Norman Rockwell's America," a documentary laced with music and humor.

Asks Amnesty for Dissenters

LONDON (AP) — Amnesty International, a human rights organization, appealed to the U.S. government today to declare an amnesty for persons imprisoned, awaiting trial or in exile because of their refusal to take part in the Vietnam war.

The organization said such an amnesty would apply to about 10,000 people. It said indicted draft resisters and some of the deserters in exile formed a reservoir of potential "prisoners of conscience" who may be in American jails long after the Vietnam war is over.

Journalism Building at U.A. Burns

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Fire ravaged the top floor of the three-story journalism building on the University of Arkansas campus Tuesday night. Lower floors also suffered some damage.

The alarm was turned in about 6:30 p.m. by a janitor who said he saw the fire in the office of the student newspaper, the Arkansas Traveler, after a student told him there was a blaze.

The Traveler and the Razorback yearbook offices were on the third floor of the building, named Hill Hall after Confederate Army Gen. Daniel H. Hill.

No one was reported injured, although part of a cornice fell on some firemen handling a hose on a third-story fire escape.

About 5,000 students crowded up to watch the blaze, shouted a university football cheer, and also cheered occasionally when debris rained on firemen or when pieces of the building fell.

The brick building is situated only 15 to 20 yards from the new $3 million library. Firemen stood on the library roof and trained hoses on the burning journalism building.

Because of the thickness of the crowd, firemen abandoned efforts to get a snorkel truck close enough to fight the fire. They used three engine pumper trucks.

The building was constructed in 1901 as a men's dormitory, later was turned over to academic functions, then again was used as a dormitory. It was turned over to the Journalism Department in 1901.

Damage to the lower floors included slight fire damage in some offices of the second floor. Heat, water and smoke were the primary causes of damage below the third floor.

The building basement houses the university printing plant where new offset equipment was installed recently. It also contains engraving equipment and two linotypes.

In Veterans Day ceremonies Tuesday, the Henderson brigade fired a 21-gun salute in memory of the nation's war dead.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

VACATION FROM MARRIAGE BECOMES PERMANENT

Dear Helen: I read about the deserted woman whose husband said he's be back at 2 p.m., but didn't say which year.

My wife left for a 30-day vacation two years ago! This after 23 years of marriage. Maybe you have the "jump-to-conclusion" picture of me as a worthless husband who deserves no better. Believe me, dear lady, I'm not a chaser or a wifebeater. My only vices are cigarettes and a can of beer before supper. I've been mother and father to the children while my wife did the running. Yet I still love her and wish she would come back for more than an occasional weekend.

She got involved in Little Theater and country music several years ago. I took her faithfully to the rehearsals, but she would not let me stay. She would go to music festivals and taverns, then brag about the men who wanted her to run away with them. She didn't want my company.

It isn't that I am a party-pooper. I like to have fun and go places, but she preferred that I stay home. Perhaps our marriage was doomed from the start. I heard — after the wedding — that she took me on the rebound because the man she loved went off with someone else.

Two lawyers say I have grounds for divorce and could get custody of the children, also the house. Yet I sit here waiting for those few weekends when (probably because she has nothing better to do) she becomes a visiting wife. I don't want your sympathy, and I doubt if I'd take advice, as two years with psychotherapy (for both of us) hasn't done much good.

I just want you to know that it isn't always the "poor wronged woman." Men suffer too.—DESERTED HUSBAND

Dear Husband: True! Woman inflicts as much misery as she takes. And the wronged partner his (or her) lumps in direct proportion to how long he bows down and asks for them.

Stop suffering over past hurts and make a new life for yourself—without the woman who only wants you when there's nothing better to do—H.

Dear Helen: I am a woman of 25, divorced, and have a child. I'm dating a fellow out of my religion, which, to my parents, is a deadly sin. One night he came over in bell bottoms. They immediately assumed he is a hippie. (He's a respected high school teacher.) Because he isn't exactly a Greek god type, they downgrade him further.

Helen, he treats me wonderfully, loves my daughter, and has no strong opinions on religion so there would be no clash. I'm beginning to love him, and I'm sure it's mutual.

But my folks, with whom we live, say if I go ahead with this romance they'll declare me an unfit mother and take away my little girl. I could prove them wrong in court, but think of the bitterness.

Should I buckle under?—GIRL WITH PROBLEMS

Dear G with P: A woman of 25 should have broken out long ago. Call your parents bluff—you know they won't bring suit—and, if things get sticky, move to an apartment and establish a separate home for yourself and your daughter.—H.

Station Reports White Lupine Shows Promise

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. — Winter-hardy varieties of white lupine being grown by the University of Arkansas Agricultural Experiment Station show much promise for soil conservation purposes on most of the well-drained, light to medium-textured soils in Arkansas.

According to an article appearing in the Experiment Station's publication, Arkansas Farm Research, Dr. Marion S. Offutt, agronomist, has developed nine promising lines of white lupine with a higher level of winter hardiness than the common variety.

Planted at three different sites in the state, the new lines yielded 45.5, 29.5, 37.9, and 23 bushels of seed per acre from plots at Fayetteville, Manila (late-seeded), Manila (early-seeded), and Hope, respectively. Dr. Offutt pointed out that these results indicate seed of winter-hardy white lupine can be produced successfully in Arkansas.

These results are particularly significant since one of the main factors limiting the use of the common white lupine variety is its relatively low level of winter hardiness. Stands of the common variety are usually injured to some extent by winter conditions in all areas of the state. Severe injuries occur more frequently in the northern part of the state than in the southern areas.

Better winter hardiness will add to the beneficial characteristics of this legume which has the potential of producing good yields of herbage and seed, as well as being a superior nitrogen fixer in the soils where it is best adapted.

Hogs Picked to Beat SMU Saturday

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — There will be no moratorium on college football Saturday, which is just fine with the bowl people. They'll be watching key games around the country, hoping to entice the best teams money and warm weather can buy when the official invitations go out Monday morning.

Can Purdue knock off top-ranked Ohio State and take a giant step toward the Rose Bowl? Can Michigan refrain from looking past Iowa to Ohio State? Can Tennessee preserve its unbeaten status against a rugged Mississippi eleven on the road?

Hopefully, we have some of the answers. Last week's score was a disappointing 38-13-3-704. Season is 329-129-8-718. Purdue at Ohio State—What a difference a year makes. Last season, Purdue was No. 1 when the Buckeyes stunned them 13-0. Ohio State has been No. 1 ever since.

"It is difficult to foresee Ohio State being defeated this year," says Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State, whose team was clobbered by both. "However, any team with a Mike Phipps leading the attack has an excellent chance to win any football game."

Phipps is the national leader in total offense and only two quarterbacks have passed for more yardage this season.

But the Buckeyes have a secret weapon—defense. They're sixth against rushing and have yielded only 55 points in seven games, a 7.9 average that's second nationally. Purdue has been scored on at a rate of 25 a game.

Having studied the numbers, and flipped a coin, the pick is . . . P-Pu-Pur . . . Ohio State.

Michigan at Iowa—Haykewes played their best game of the season against Indiana last week, but that's not enough against the aroused Wolverines. Michigan.

Tennessee at Mississippi—Two unbeaten, Georgia and Louisiana State, lost their perfect records against the Rebels at Jackson, Miss. Is another end in sight? No, Tennessee.

Auburn at Georgia—A loss could knock either team out of a bowl bid, Georgia.

Air Force at Stanford—Flyboys run afoul of guided missiles put aloft by Jim Plunkett, Stanford.

Nebraska at Kansas State—Huskers got well with four victories at home. No more get well cards this year, Kansas State.

Texas Christian at Texas—Second-ranked Longhorns will be listening for the Ohio State score . . . and rolling it up on the Horned Frogs, Texas.

Arkansas at Southern Methodist—Mustangs gave Arkansas fits last year before bowing 35-29. Chuck Hixson is still a great passer but the touchdowns haven't been coming . . . and the Porkers have only allowed 6.6 points a game, best in the land, Arkansas.

Maryland at Penn State—If the Nittany Lions win, their 27-game unbeaten string will be the longest since Oklahoma went 48 games (47 wins, one tie) without losing from 1953-57 Penn State.

Southern California at Washington—Huskers remain winless, Southern Cal.

UCLA at Oregon—Bruins bury the Ducks . . . but you can't dig a hole in the Astroturf, UCLA.

Missouri at Iowa State—Tigers smell the Big Eight title, Missouri.

Notre Dame at Georgia Tech—Tech not Ramblin', just Wrecked, Notre Dame.

Karabas Is Winner of International

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
LAUREL, Md. (AP) — Lester Piggott rides, reads and remembers—as he demonstrated Tuesday during and after the $150,000 Washington, D.C. International at Laurel, which he won aboard Karabas of England.

Piggott guided Karabas to a 1 1/4-length victory over Hawaii of the United States to win his second straight International, but the main thing on his mind after the race was the criticism he received in 1968.

Some U.S. turf writers criticized Piggott's winning ride aboard Sir Ivor of Ireland last year contending he should have won more easily than he did.

"I'm not talking to any of you," Piggott told reporters Tuesday. "You know what you wrote last year. Clear the hell out."

The champion jockey of England later talked to newsmen but refused to discuss the race.

But Bernard Van Cutsem who trains Karabas for Lord Iveagh, talked about it.

"He was beautifully ridden," Van Cutsem said. "The race went as I wanted, as far as you could ever plan it. Karabas got through on the rail, seized his opportunity and went right on."

Piggott sent the 4-year-old colt through a hole on the rail entering the stretch to take the lead away from the duelling Hawali and Czar Alexander, the other U.S. representative. Czar Alexander finished third, one-half length back of favored Hawaii and 12 lengths ahead of Hitchcock of Germany.

It was the sixth straight victory for Karabas who is the son of Worden II, who won this race for France in 1953. Karabas paid a winning mutual of $9.20 and earned $100,000. This is almost $18,000 more than he earned in nine previous races this year.

England's second triumph in 18 runnings of the International spoiled a farewell to racing of Charles Englehard's South African-bred 5-year-old Hawaii. Trainer MacKenzie Miller said before the race that Hawaii would be retired to stud no matter what the outcome of the International.

Piggott's victory made him the third jockey to win two straight International's. The others were Manuel Ycaza on Bald Eagle of the United States in 1959 and 1960 and Jean Deforge of France on Diatome from France in 1965 and Behistoun of France in 1966.

off, which is highly unlikely.

Hard to imagine, but basketball is upon us. Already the area schools (Springhill, Bodecaw, Blewins, Saratoga) have started their season, and Hope starts up on November 24 when the junior and senior girls teams host Ashdown's Pantherettes.

Then the Bobcats and the Lady Cats will travel to Nashville on the 29th for the senior boys' opener under new Coach John Ross. The schedules are now completed, and will be printed here later this week.

Ross has cut his Bobcat squad down from the first candidates to about 13 players, with more to come at the end of football season. There will be some new faces to the fans, too, including those who went to Yenger last year and Tommy Webb, a sophomore transfer from Blewins.

Basketball in Region 4-AA is tougher competitively than football, if that is possible. For three years running the state AA champion has come from 4-AA and Camden Lincoln won it last March. Besides them, Fairview, Malvern, Magnolia, Crossett, and Arkadelphia all are expected to be tough enough to run for the state berths.

Of course, Hope before the season is rated at the bottom after years of 18-14 and 4-20, but Coach Ross has started early to change all that and is trying to start another winning tradition at Hope in basketball comparable to the period of 1956-64, when the Cats went to the state tournament every year.

Also, Yenger Junior High's Kitty Cats are expected by some to challenge strongly for the District 7-A championship this year. The junior girls made the district semifinals last year before losing a 38-34 heartbreaker to Nashville, the eventual winner. Several of last year's team moved up to the Lady Cats, but the rest are coming along well under new coach Jo Adcock, who is in charge of the Yenger girls PE program while Mrs. Charlotte Gibson remains at the high school and coaches the Lady Cats.

Powell Hogs' Signal Man on Defense

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer
FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Cliff Powell, a quarterback in high school, is still calling signals — as Arkansas' middle linebacker.

And the 212-pound senior from Eufora has his signals beamed to help the fourth-ranked Razorbacks lead the nation in defense against scoring. Arkansas presently leads in this category.

Arkansas, 7-0 this year, blanked its first two opponents this season and didn't allow a touchdown until Baylor scored in the fourth game of the season. The Baylor touchdown was the first Arkansas had permitted in more than 18 quarters.

"It hurt, the first time they scored a touchdown against us," Powell said. "It was the first time our goal line had been crossed in a long time."

Although the coaching staff calls the defense before each offensive play, Powell is responsible for making the alterations dictated by the offensive alignment.

"He's our defensive coordinator on the field," said linebacker coach Harold Horton. "A lot of times he may not have 10 seconds to make the decision. It's got to be an instantaneous reaction."

"To me, it's pretty simple," Powell said. "The offenses are not that hard to recognize."

Powell was Arkansas' leading tackler last year and received All-Southwest Conference honors. This year he is the statistical leader of a defense that has given up only 46 points in seven games.

"He's got a nose for the ball and he goes," Horton said. "He's aggressive and he has the speed and quickness to get where he's going."

Powell suffered a shoulder separation in the game against Southern Methodist last year and missed the Texas Tech game. However, he played in the 16-2 Sugar Bowl victory over Georgia with his shoulder in a harness.

He left the Wichita State game this season with a hyperextension of the elbow, but was back on the field the next week against Texas A&M.

After playing quarterback and linebacker in high school, Powell asked for a chance to play offense when he arrived at Arkansas.

"I played tailback for about two weeks—until we scheduled the freshmen," he said. "I found out pretty well then that I wasn't going to be playing offense."

Tie Game Produces Tie Award

NEW YORK (AP) — Greg Cook and Don Trull ran a drama-charged dead heat in the Astrodome last Sunday—and the scoreboard duly recorded the finish.

Cook, Cincinnati's sensational rookie, and Trull, a six-year American Football League veteran making his first 1969 start for Houston, accounted for four touchdowns apiece as the Bengals and Oilers battled to a 31-31 standoff.

Trull fired two touchdown passes to Jim Beirne and scrambled for two more scores. Cook unleashed four scoring bombs—three of them to Bob Trumpy—before directing a 69-yard drive climaxed by Horst Muhlmann's tying field goal with 22 seconds to play.

Today, the two quarterbacks were named co-recipients of The Associated Press' AFL Offensive Player of the Week award.

Cook, picking up where he left off in the Bengals' 31-17 upset of Oakland the previous week, clicked with Trumpy on scoring plays covering 14, 41 and 70 yards. He combined with Eric Crabtree on a second 70-yard strike and completed 15 of 25 passes overall for 298 yards.

Trull, given the starting nod following Pete Beathard's erratic performance in a 24-0 loss to Boston, responded with a 16-for-32 barrage for 259 yards.

Ohio State-Purdue Game Is Big One

By ERIC PREWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Suddenly, in the third quarter of last year's Ohio State-Purdue football game, it was goodbye Columbus for Mike Phipps.

The Boilermaker quarterback from Columbus, Ind., left the big stadium in Columbus, Ohio, and entered dreamland thanks to some jarring Ohio State tackling.

"They really messed my lines," recalls Phipps, who on Saturday leads Purdue into Ohio Stadium a third straight year. A crowd of more than 86,000 and a national television audience will be watching.

Phipps enters the game as an underdog for the first time, although he's leading the nation in total offense. The 10th-ranked Boilermakers, 7-1, are right behind unbeaten and top-ranked Ohio State in the Big Ten race.

By engineering a victory over the Buckeyes, Phipps would be a tough man to beat in the voting for the Heisman Trophy. A repeat of last year's experience, however, and he may wind up as second team all-conference quarterback behind Ohio State's Rex Kern.

Buckeye Coach Woody Hayes said last year that Purdue, ranked No. 1 at the time, had "the most sophisticated passing attack in the nation."

There was nothing sophisticated about the way the Buckeyes stopped it.

"I was hit hard on three straight plays. After that I don't remember much," Phipps said.

Phipps, after playing on instinct for a few series, left the game, and the 13-0 score stood up. The young Buckeye team went on from the upset victory to claim the national championship.

The 1967 game is one that

Phipps would rather discuss. For one thing, he remembers what happened.

He completed 21 of 31 passes for 210 yards, threw two touchdowns and left early in the second half with his team ahead 41-0. The final score was 41-6.

Three weeks later, the Buckeyes recovered and started a winning streak that stands at 21 going into their rubber match with the great quarterback from the other Columbus.

Mike Garrett Doing Well in the AFL

NEW YORK (AP) — Versatile Mike Garrett of the Kansas City Chiefs has grabbed a piece of the action in the American Football League's individual rushing, receiving and scoring races.

The explosive running back has picked up 422 yards on the ground, added 320 on 32 pass receptions and scored eight touchdowns in nine games to crack the top 10 in all three departments. He ranks 10th in rushing, seventh in receiving and shares the No. 7 spot with three others in the point derby.

Denver's Floyd Little, who sat out last Sunday's game against Oakland with a knee injury, still retained a commanding rushing lead with a total of 637 yards, according to weekly AFL figures released today.

Greg Cook, Cincinnati's phenomenal rookie quarterback, snatched the passing lead from Joe Namath of New York while Fred Biletnikoff of Oakland continued to pace the pass-catchers and the Jets' Jim Turner remained atop the scoring parade.

Little, averaging 5.1 yards per carry, has a 102-yard margin over New York's Matt Snell, the No. 2 ground gainer. Cook has completed 57 per cent of his passes for an average gain of more than 10 yards.

Oakland's Daryle Lamonica, No. 3 behind Cook and Namath in the passing figures, leads the league with 25 touchdowns.

7 Touchdown Passes for Back of Week

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
You can have Mike Phipps of Purdue, Rex Kern of Ohio State, Archie Manning of Mississippi, Jim Plunkett of Stanford or any of the other outstanding college quarterbacks. Fido Murphy—and possibly the Chicago Bears—will take Dennis Shaw of San Diego State.

Of course, just about anyone would take Shaw after the performance he put on in a 58-32 rout of Pacific Saturday night. The 6-foot-2 1/2, 205-pound senior from Claremont, Calif., completed 25 of 38 passes for 463 yards and seven—count 'em—seven touchdowns.

For that show, Shaw was college football's Back of the Week by The Associated Press.

"Shaw is better than Plunkett and Plunkett's a good one," said Murphy, a scout for the Bears. "I honestly believe he's better than Phipps. He's a good deal better than Don Horn of the Packers, who played here. He's like Roman Gabriel of the Rams, but niftier. This is a big strong, tough kid who runs better than most quarterbacks, too."

Shaw came to San Diego State by way of the University of Southern California—which apparently didn't think much of him as a quarterback—and Mt. San Antonio Junior College.

San Diego State was glad to get him. The Aztecs have a 7-0 record this season after going 9-1-1 a year ago and 10-1 in 1967. Over that span, Shaw has completed 260 of 457 passes for 4,218 yards and 44 touchdowns. This season he's 126 for 217 for 2,079 yards and 25 TDs.

Two mammals lay eggs—the spiny anteater or echidna and the duckbill platypus, native to Australia, Tasmania and New Zealand.

Detroit Lions Low Team on Offense

NEW YORK (AP) — Detroit is last in total offense and New Orleans trails in total defense but the Lions beat Atlanta 27-21 Sunday and the Saints gave Dallas fits before succumbing 33-17.

The weekly National Football League statistics show the Chicago Bears rate second in total defense and first in pass defense, two figures that help account for their 38-7 victory over Pittsburgh last Sunday. It was the Bears' first win after seven straight defeats.

Minnesota is first in total defense and there are few who will argue with the figures after the way they handled the Cleveland Browns 51-3.

Dallas still is first in total offense and rushing offense.

Lottery on Draft Now Seems Sure

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate approval of President Nixon's draft lottery proposal appears virtually certain after senators favoring broader reform dropped their fight in the face of an ultimatum from the Armed Services Committee.

Final action on the lottery bill could come within two weeks.

The reform advocates received a pledge of hearings and possible action in 1970 from Sen.

John C. Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the committee, as they agreed Tuesday to go along with the lottery plan passed by the House.

Even though chances of extensive draft reform this year were ruled out, the subcommittee on administrative practices and procedures continued its draft hearings today by calling Robert H. Finch, secretary of health, education and welfare, and Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-

Mass., a leader of the draft reform forces, is presiding over the hearings.

The pledge by Stennis of hearings and possible action next year appeared of doubtful value for two reasons:

—Stennis himself has indicated opposition to many reform proposals such as an all-volunteer army.

—There is no guarantee the House Armed Services Committee will act on the bill.

The current draft law runs until June 30, 1971.

A unanimous Senate Armed Services Committee supported

Stennis Monday in opposing any change in the House bill, which merely repeals the one sentence in the 1967 Selective Service Act that bars a lottery if 19-year-olds are drafted first.

President Nixon has said he will order the 19-year-old draft by executive order in January.

He also said if Congress fails to permit a lottery he will switch to a similar but more cumbersome system.

The changes are designed to reduce the period in which a young man could be drafted from seven years to one.

Chilean Airliner Hijacked

ANTOFAGASTA, Chile (AP) —

Two young men hijacked a

Chilean jetliner with 82 persons on board today and ordered it to fly to Cuba. But the plane landed here from Santiago for refueling and was unable to take off again because of mechanical difficulties.

It could not be determined immediately whether the malfunction reported in one of the Caravelle's twin, rear-mounted engines could be corrected.

The hijackers allowed 12 of the 86 passengers to disembark.

They were seven adults and five children. One was the manager in Chile of West Germany's airline Lufthansa.

The plane was hijacked shortly after it took off on a flight from Santiago, Chile's capital, to the Chilean south.

The plane landed at Antofagasta at 10:35 a.m.

It appears, according to the Presidential Commission on Product Safety, that there have been instances of color sets bursting into flames, even when not in operation. Cause not yet determined, but one possibility would seem to be ruled out right from the start. It can't be red-hot programming that's to blame. — Savannah (Ga.) Even-

Astronauts Use Last Days on Earth Doing Their Favorite Thing

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL

Associated Press Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —

While others looked approvingly at weather forecasts for Friday's launch, the Apollo 12 astronauts today concentrated on weather for a different purpose: They want to do some sunbathing before leaving for the moon.

Like fighters who train to a peak and then taper off for the bout, astronauts Charles Conrad

Jr., Alan L. Bean and Richard

Gordon Jr. are spending the last days doing the things that are leisure to them.

Conrad spent 40 minutes aloft

Tuesday alone in a T38 jet, doing a few rolls.

"I did what I wanted to do, which was acrobatics," said the man who next Wednesday will guide the lunar module to a landing on the moon's Ocean of Storms. And, he said, "If I have time I'll fly some more."

The space agency said all three astronauts planned to go to the beach today if the weather permitted. Despite a bright sun, temperatures have invited only the hardest swimmers to try the water.

At launch pad 39, the 363-foot

Saturn 5 rocket and the moon-bound command ship received their final grooming after a day of inactivity. Crews loaded supercooled helium and began putting in liquid oxygen and liquid hydrogen.

President and Mrs. Nixon and

Vice President and Mrs. Spiro

T. Agnew are scheduled to be among the half million persons who will see the launching at 11:22 a.m. EST Friday. The weather bureau predicted partly cloudy skies, moderate winds and a temperature around 60.

Police shot down Frank D.

Dick, 38, after he had wounded three policemen and a store clerk.

Dick hit in the stomach, was found to have an unhealed wound which police believe he suffered during a $6,000 supermarket robbery Sept. 19. He had been charged in that robery.

Minutes before the shootout,

police said, Dick had held up the nearby Aaron Wolfson Jewelry Store and fled with $250,000 in diamonds and jewelry.

He ran into policemen at every turn while trying to escape.

The flight ended with a flurry of bullets on the first floor of the 10-story Foley's department store. Frightened customers scrambled for cover.

Astronaut Frank Borman was among those who crowded the sidewalks to see the wounded placed in ambulances.

Police said they found medicine Dick apparently had been using for self-treatment of a shoulder wound received in WASHINGTON (AP) — A

$1.45 billion military construction bill containing seed money for President Nixon's Safeguard

ABM system was approved by the House Appropriations Committee today and sent to the floor for expected action Thursday.

The message includes $16.6

million to begin Safeguard deployment, $2.5 million for an underground command center in the Rocky Mountains and $14.1 million to develop Jwajalein Island in the Pacific for full scale tests next year of the antiballistic missile system.

Plans for the tests—in which intercontinental ballistic missiles are to be fired on Kwajalein from California by mid-1970 and shot down by interceptor missiles there—were disclosed in testimony released by an appropriations subcommittee.

Lt. Gen. A. D. Starbird, Safeguard system manager, told the subcommittee the tests will involve the Safeguard detection radars, long range Spartan interceptor missiles and short range Sprint interceptors which will be deployed at sites in Montana and North Dakota.

At the same time Starbird said the Safeguard system could be overcome by saturation firing of enemy missiles but not before it had accomplished its mission: buying enough time to get retaliatory U.S. missiles and attack bombers into the air.

Most Safeguard deployment money for fiscal 1970—$746 million has been authorized—is in another bill not scheduled for congressional action until December.

The bulk of the money in the bill is for construction projects, including family housing, at

U.S. military bases in this country and abroad.

No money is appropriated for Soviet interpretation in Vietnam or Southeast Asia for the first time in several years.

BROWNING, Mont. (AP) —

Bob Scrivner, using skill and 2,000 pounds of bronze, has tried to mould the likeness of a "real honest to God cowboy."

Some say he was successful.

The likeness is that of the late

Bill Linderman, a Montana

wrangler who was one of rodeo's most renowned riders.

"He was one of the old breed-

...not one of the Honda-types

you have today," says Scrivner, a 55-year-old goateed artist.

"He typifies all that's good about the American cowboy and the Old West—the West of the Indian, the longhorn herds."

Scrivner was commissioned by the Rodeo Cowboys Association
